100 Words Every Fourth Grader Should Know

Synopsis

Ideal for students in the upper grades of elementary school, 100 Words Every Fourth Grader Should Know includes one hundred words of varying degrees of difficulty, representing the kind of vocabulary students often encounter in their classes and in their reading. From accommodate to zest, with stops along the way at frank, persuade, and vengeance, the words are invariably intriguing and useful. Each entry includes the word's pronunciation, clear definitions of its various senses, and one or more short example sentences, along with a longer quotation showing how the word is used in a broader context.

This is a great summer vacation homework item for my tutee. He is in the second grades and reads at the fourth grade level. Although he was born with a physical disability, his brain and motivation are very strong.I want him to aspire to higher education as he inspires me with his motivation,.

We use this for a word of the day. We have enjoyed the word list. I like that each word has a sentence to go with it.

Helpful for any elementary student.

this was nice, made my child a bit more competitive in her spelling and vocabulary

Great book. My going into 4th grade girl just loves it.

Not as it expect but I think it will work

OK Book!Too few pages- pricey for value

I bought this book for my Son for summer school and he loves it. It's easy and self taught. My son spends lots of time and seems to enjoy learning this way.... Homeschool may be better for my son My son has even talked with me about it. ADHD plays a major role in helping to determine if this type of education is a better learning activity then school. This will offer my son the ability to get away from the bulling because he's so hyper and difficult at times because he's board.
