Oil Lamps 3 : Victorian Kerosene Lighting 1860-1900

Synopsis

Oil lamps are showcased in hundreds of black and white and color photographs throughout these pages, with greater emphasis on diversity, trimmings, and the probable placement in the home. Lighting fixtures such as hall, hanging, or bracket lamps reveal that Victorian homeowners had an astounding selection from which to choose. The many catalog illustrations and advertisements serve to date lamps and perhaps identify their manufacturer. This third volume is both a visual feast and a wealth of information for readers and collectors. 2003 values. AUTHOR BIO: Catherine Thuro is a researcher, lecturer, writer, and museum consultant in the field of early lighting. She has authored three volumes on oil lamps, which have become standard references in the field. She has lectured to museums and clubs in the U.S. and Canada, including the Sandwich Glass Museum, The Royal Ontario Museum, The Ford Museum, The Huntington Galleries, The Early American Industries Association, and The Early American Glass Club. REVIEW: This is the third volume in a three-volume series by author Catherine Thuro, one of Canada's leading authorities on early lighting. Her books are highly acclaimed and are considered required reading by collectors.

Customer Reviews

This is the third in a series of books on oil lamps by Catherine Thuro. She is an excellent author who has diligently researched the subject of early oil lamps. Rich with photographs and text, this volume and her set is a must for the serious student, collector, and dealer of early American oil lamps. I hope someday that all public libraries will either have her work in hard bound book or digital form.

A great reference book of antique and victorian lighting devices for the collector and historians.

I was looking for a book on Antique Oil Lamps. I had reviewed other sites, but offered much cheaper than the competitors I have used in the past. I was very pleased with the price, quality, and customer service. A positive shopping experience. I am an older shopper. I don't embrace technology like the younger people and it is harder to please an old person of 57 than young whippersnappers.

VERY INFORMATIVE BOOK ON kerosene lamps in US

This is the third book by Catherine Thuro on the subject of kerosene oil lighting and lamps. This book is as informative and useful as were her other two books. As an avid collector of whale oil and Kerosene oil antique lamps and lighting, I feel her books are one of the best reference sources available. I highly recommend this book to anyone who embraces the passion of collecting antique lighting!

Love this book!

Good info on hanging lamps.

Lots of good information.
