i'm not sure whether it's jerry's automaton sounding voice, the speed at which the material is read, or something else, but for some reason this set of cds did not work for me. there is a serious disconnect whenever i try to listen to them and i quickly lose interest to what is being said.it's attributable, i think, to the way the material is read - in a monotone, dispassionate and at times hurried manner. jerry doesn't connect with the words he's reading, and it makes me lose interest.for me, trying to listen to this cd was a waste of time, and buying it was a waste of money. i do have many other abraham cds and i like them very much, but these sets (both part I and part II) are ones i was sorely disappointed by. the material is great, but the delivery is extremely disappointing.

I got these Esther Hicks / Abraham audio CD's for my long commute each day and love the positive and informative messages.
